Navarrete

Navarrete is a small and friendly town. People like to talk, help each other, and spend time outside. The community is peaceful. Many families sit in front of their homes in the afternoon to relax and enjoy the breeze.

important factory

In Navarrete, Dominican Republic, one of the most important factories in the country, the most prominent being Productos Linda (Transagrícola), known for its processing of food and tomato-based products.

Navarrete strike

Strikes in the municipality of Navarrete, located in the province of Santiago, Dominican Republic (not in Navarrete, La Rioja, Spain), are known for being frequent and often intense popular mobilizations demanding various social reforms and public works.

These strikes are not isolated historical events, like the textile strikes in Río Blanco or Cananea in Mexico, but rather are part of the municipality's current sociopolitical landscape, occurring regularly throughout the years.
